Correction Officers: Walking a tough beat

Nationwide, there are more than 200,000 Correction Officers currently serving today in local jails, state prisons and federal penitentiaries. They are responsible for the custody and security of some 1.5 Million inmates nationwide. That is a ratio of about seven inmates for each officer.

There are roughly 8,000 assaults on Correctional Officers and security staff each year. In the past 30 years alone, more than 200 Correctional Officers have died in the line of duty. About one-quarter of them were stabbed to death.
